

Determine which of the following curves are graphs of a function, which functions are bounded above and below, which are symmetric with respect to the “y” axe. For the curves that are the graphs determine the graph of the modulus of the function and the graph of the modulus of the function minus 1.

